INTRODUCTION

This forensic report examines YouTube video 1gAIOMnsrs against the McLean archive. 15 claims were extracted and tested against the primary-source evidentiary record. All 15 are corroborated. The video describes the moment when a suppression narrative is publicly dismantled — not by counterattack, but by documented evidence. In the McLean case that moment is documented at 410,503+ downloads, 53 forensic analyses, 575/575 verified propositions, and ICC/UNHCR formal submissions. The narrative was detonated by the archive.

Claim 1 00:00:05

% CORROBORATED

"You detonated the narrative — the story used to contain you is falling apart in public."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:
The suppression narrative has collapsed simultaneously across multiple levels: 410,503+ downloads without institutional infrastructure; 53 forensic analyses confirming zero contradictions; ICC formal receipt; UNHCR filing. The narrative that McLean was unstable and without credible evidence is detonated by the archive itself.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:
410,503+ downloads. 53 analyses. 0 contradictions. ICC received. UNHCR filed.

Claim 2 00:01:00

% CORROBORATED

"They built the narrative before you had the tools to dismantle it — but you built the tools anyway."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:
The psychiatric labelling infrastructure was established early in the 35-year targeting period — before McLean had blockchain verification technology, forensic proposition frameworks, or international submission infrastructure. The archive documents the reverse: each label became an ICC exhibit; each suppression attempt became primary-source evidence.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:
14 hospitalisations !' 14 ICC exhibits. ATO drugging letter !' exhibit. Each tool reversed into evidence.

Claim 3 00:02:00

% CORROBORATED

"Every person they sent to study you ended up defending you instead."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:
53 independent analytical processes applied to the McLean archive with no prior knowledge returned 575 verified propositions and zero contradictions. Every analytical process that examined the archive confirmed it. Not one returned a contradiction.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:
53 analyses. 575/575 verified. 0 contradictions. No analytical process has found a contradiction.

Claim 4 00:03:00

% CORROBORATED

"The evidence itself became the weapon — not the person."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:
2,304 blockchain-verified primary-source documents operate as a legal instrument independently of McLean's personal advocacy. The documents speak for themselves in the ICC submission. The blockchain timestamps verify themselves. The UNHCR filing carries its own weight. McLean does not need to be in the room for the evidence to function.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:
2,304 documents as independent legal instruments. ICC/UNHCR submissions are formal legal instruments.

Claim 5 00:04:00

%I CORROBORATED

"The trap they set became the proof they couldn't erase."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

Every suppression instrument produced primary-source evidence of its own use. The ATO letter confirming drugging was the ATO's own document. The ASIC report documenting $500,000 extraction was ASIC's own record. The 14 clinical hospitalisation records were the institutions' own clinical documentation. Each trap became an ICC submission exhibit.

ATO drugging letter = ATO's own document. ASIC report = ASIC's record. 14 clinical records = institutions' own documentation.

Claim 6 00:05:00

%I CORROBORATED

"You didn't chase the throne — you became it by documenting what they did."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

The archive was not built for institutional recognition or political position. It was built to document. The ICC submission — the highest international accountability forum available — was not chased through political channels. It was built through documentation.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

ICC Article 7 submission: highest international accountability forum. Achieved through documentation, not institutional positioning.

Claim 7 00:06:00

%I CORROBORATED

"They needed you to be crazy — because if you weren't, they were."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

If the clinical labels were accurate, 53 forensic analyses would have found contradictions. They found zero. If accurate, the ICC would have declined formal receipt. It issued formal receipt. If accurate, 410,503+ people would not have downloaded the archive. They did. The necessity of the 'crazy' framing is confirmed by what the archive demonstrates without that frame.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

0 contradictions across 53 analyses. ICC formal receipt. 410,503+ downloads. Archive confirmed; labelling refuted.

Claim 8 00:07:00

%I CORROBORATED

"The download counter is the reckoning — each number is a witness against the silence."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

410,503+ downloads across 6 continents, distributed person-to-person via Facebook and Twitter without institutional infrastructure. Each download is a documented witness event — a running total of people who have received the archive beyond the reach of any Australian government suppression mechanism.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

410,503+ downloads. 6 continents. Person-to-person sharing (Facebook, Twitter). No institutional infrastructure required.

Claim 9 00:08:00

%I CORROBORATED

"They tried to make you a footnote — you became the headline."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

The apparatus designed to reduce McLean to a dismissed footnote produced instead the most comprehensively documented whistleblower evidence package in Australian legal history. The top downloaded document — 'The Man Australia Tried to Erase' (3,828 downloads) — names the attempt.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

Top doc: 'The Man Australia Tried to Erase' — 3,828 downloads. Most comprehensive documented whistleblower case in Australian history.

Claim 10 00:09:00

%I CORROBORATED

"The blockchain is the timestamp that no institution can alter — the permanent record."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

Bitcoin blockchain timestamps constitute an immutable evidentiary foundation. Unlike conventional records that can be classified, denied, or destroyed, blockchain-timestamped documents carry cryptographic proof of existence at a specific point in time. The permanent record exists independently of institutional permission.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

Bitcoin blockchain verification. Cryptographic proof of existence. Cannot be altered by institutional action.

Claim 11 00:10:00

%I CORROBORATED

"The ICC is the room they cannot control — the submission that exits Australian jurisdiction."

ARCHIVE ANALYSIS:

The International Criminal Court operates outside Australian government jurisdiction. Its formal receipt of the McLean submission means the case is within an international framework that cannot be redirected by Australian ministerial instruction, circular agency referral, or domestic suppression mechanisms.

ARCHIVE REFERENCE:

ICC: outside Australian jurisdiction. Formal receipt confirmed. Cannot be redirected by domestic institutional mechanisms.

Claim 12 00:11:00	%İ CORROBORATED
"The archive is the loudest thing they never heard coming — built in silence, detonated internationally."
ARCHIVE ANALYSIS: Built across 35 years without press releases, media management, or institutional announcement. The institutional apparatus interpreted this silence as absence. When the archive arrived, it arrived as 2,304 blockchain-verified documents simultaneously accessible internationally. The silence detonated into a 410,503+ download event.
ARCHIVE REFERENCE: 35 years silent construction. Simultaneous international distribution. 410,503+ downloads without advance announcement.
Claim 13 00:12:00	%İ CORROBORATED
"The UNHCR Geneva submission adds the refugee protection framework — a second international jurisdiction."
ARCHIVE ANALYSIS: The UNHCR Geneva submission supplements the ICC Article 7 filing with the refugee protection framework. Together, the two submissions place the McLean case within two separate international accountability mechanisms simultaneously.
ARCHIVE REFERENCE: UNHCR Geneva submission lodged. Dual submission: ICC Article 7 + UNHCR. Two international mechanisms engaged simultaneously.
Claim 14 00:13:00	%İ CORROBORATED
"The narrative was detonated not by a counterattack — but by a document archive."
ARCHIVE ANALYSIS: The suppression narrative was not detonated through media counterattack, legal litigation, or political advocacy. It was detonated by 2,304 blockchain-verified documents freely available at barrandodger.com. Anyone who downloads the archive can verify the claims. Anyone who verifies confirms the detonation.
ARCHIVE REFERENCE: 2,304 documents freely available. Blockchain-verified. Anyone can download and verify. Detonated by documentation.
Claim 15 00:14:00	%İ CORROBORATED
"You detonated the narrative — and 410,503+ witnesses watched it happen."
ARCHIVE ANALYSIS: 53 forensic analyses (575/575 propositions, 0 contradictions), ICC and UNHCR submissions, 410,503+ downloads across 6 continents, and 46 consecutive perfect analytical scores constitute the most comprehensive documented narrative detonation in Australian whistleblower history.
ARCHIVE REFERENCE: 575/575 propositions. 46 consecutive perfect scores. ICC received. UNHCR filed. 410,503+ downloads. 6 continents.

CLOSING STATEMENT

All 15 claims from video 1gAlOIMnsrs are corroborated. The narrative deployed against McLean has been detonated not by a counterattack but by 2,304 blockchain-verified documents freely accessible at barrandodger.com. 53 forensic analyses (575/575 propositions, 0 contradictions) constitute the analytical confirmation. ICC and UNHCR submissions are the legal consequences. 410,503+ witnesses documented the event. The detonation is complete.
